CITY OF
PALO ALTO
COMMUNITY SERVICES DEPARTMENT NEWS

HIGHLIGHTS THIS WEEK

Meet with Artist Susan Narduli

Join us for an exciting evening with artist Susan Narduli! She will talk about her upcoming interactive new media artwork, Conversations, for the Palo Alto City Hall lobby. Be the first to learn more about Conversations and help contribute to the project by sharing your input with the artist. Narduli's Conversations will activate the renovated lobby and offer a unique artistic experience through ever-changing and dynamic visual narrative.

When: Tuesday, February 3, 5:30pm-6:30pm
Where: Downtown Library, 270 Forest Avenue Palo Alto, CA 94301

Visit the artist's website to learn more about her work.
Contact the Public Art program to learn more about the project and event.

Join the Teen Arts Council!

The Teen Arts Council is an organization dedicated to giving students a voice through all forms of creative self-expression. The focus of this council is to provide teen-driven creative arts programs. Through leadership and community service, high school students can express their opinions and have an active role in the community. The Teen Arts Council also serves as a grant board offering financial assistance for the creative endeavors of teens.
