HIGHLIGHTS THIS WEEK

Silicon Valley Open Studios

Come to the 30th annual Silicon Valley Open Studios on May 14-15 at the Cubberley Community Center. Nineteen CASP artists will show their recent and new work in progress in their open studios to the public during that weekend from 11am-5pm.

Concurrent to the annual event is Remix, a group exhibition by 24 members of CASP. Remix features a body of new work that incorporates a personal creative trademark and an older work that has been changed and altered to create something new. The Remix exhibition will take place in the ArtLab at the Cubberley Community Center during the Open Studios event hours.

Evening with Artists

Don't miss an exciting evening with renowned artists Bruce Beasley and Roger Stoller on May 11 from 7pm-8:30pm at the Midtown Room in the Mitchell Park Library. The artists will discuss the use of emergent technology in their practice and the creative process behind their artwork, including works commissioned for the Mitchell Park Complex. A reception with the artists will follow. This event is free and open to the public.

James and the Giant Peach

Come and watch James and the Giant Peach - The Musical running from May 12-22 at the Palo Alto Children's Theatre. When James is sent by his conniving aunts to chop down their old fruit tree, he discovers a magic potion that launches an adventure of epic proportions!

Community Garden Program

Looking to grow your own flowers and produce? Then come join the City of Palo Alto's Community Garden Program. We are looking for potential gardeners to participate or to add to the waiting list. Some plots are currently available in the Eleanor and Rinconada gardens. Sign up now to be considered for a plot. The program is year round, so you can plant crops for all seasons.

To join, call 650-496-6962 or email catherine.bourquin@cityofpaloalto.org

Star Party

See the stars, planets and other celestial bodies after dark on May 14 from 8pm-10:30pm on Vista Hill in Foothills Park. The Peninsula Astronomical Society sets up their telescopes for you to explore the wonders of the night sky. Bring your own telescope if you have one. Please enter the park before the program starts because the entrance gate will be locked half an hour before park closing time. This is a free event. Overcast sky cancels.
