HIGHLIGHTS THIS WEEK

Chime Art Exhibit Arrives on King Plaza

Chime, an interactive sound sculpture by artists Dan Gottwald and Scott Watkins, will be installed on King Plaza in downtown Palo Alto on May 16 and remain on display through July 2016. Intentionally designed and built for physical interaction, Chime invites people of all ages to create their own musical experience. A simple push on one of the large wooden panels sets into motion a series of chimes, interactivity and smiles. Stop by and visit this exhibit while it's here!

Remix Art Reception

Come see Remix, a group exhibition by 24 members of the Cubberley Artist Studio Program, on May 21 and May 28. This free exhibition and reception will take place from 5:30pm-7:30pm at the Cubberley Community Center. Remix features a body of new work that incorporates a personal creative trademark and an older work that has been changed and altered to create something new.

15 Minute Talks at Preserves

Are you curious to learn more about the plants, wildlife or history of the Palo Alto preserves? You can request a ranger to stop by and visit your group in any preserve. These free "15 minute" talks are a great way to get acquainted with the preserve, find out what is blooming, what animals are out, or learn about the history of these local treasures.

Please call 650-329-2423 for requests in Foothills Park and Pearson-Arastradero Preserve or 650-617-3156 for Baylands Preserve.

WHOOOO: A Celebration of Owls

Celebrate owls at the Palo Alto Junior Museum & Zoo at a free event on Sunday, May 22, from 1pm-2pm. Meet our resident Western screech owls, Olive and Scooter! You will also get a chance to see owls from the San Francisco Zoo, Wildlife Associates, and more.

Club JMZ members, please join us from 10:30am-12:30pm for extra-special fun, including an owl pellet dissection and breakfast in the zoo.

Roald Dahl Carnival

Celebrate the 100th birthday of beloved author Roald Dahl at a scumdidlyumptious event, filled with performances, music, food, parade, color, noise, and activities for the family! The Roald Dahl Carnival takes place on May 22 from 3:30pm-5:30pm at the Palo Alto Children's Theatre. Also, don't forget to come see James and the Giant Peach - the Musical, based on the book by Roald Dahl, running from May 12-22.
