Life as we know it has suddenly changed in the one week since the last edition of All Things Palo Alto arrived in your email. No one is immune to the coronavirus outbreak and in the interest of the health of our entire community, we have all been asked to do our part to shelter in place, practice social distancing and homeschool our children during this unprecedented time. While we wait for sunnier days ahead, this newsletter will take a hiatus so we can focus on bringing you coronavirus updates. We hope you find some solace in knowing, Spring starts tomorrow, making it a great time to take a run, walk or hike in the parks that are still open. Read our latest blog for a list of resources to help get through these most unusual days. As a community, we are in this together. Check on your neighbors, call family members, connect with friends and stay well.
