City of Palo Alto

MEMORANDUM

TO: FINANCE COMMITTEE

DATE: MAY 12, 2021

SUBJECT: ITEMS #1 and #5 – FISCAL YEAR 2022 PROPOSED BUDGET ADDITIONAL INFORMATION AND CLARIFICATION

Staff would like to provide the Finance Committee additional information for items discussed at the May 11 and May 12 FY 2022 Budget Hearing meetings.

This memo includes information requested by the Finance Committee and the public during the Budget Townhall community meeting on May 6, 2021 regarding the locations of Crossing Guards. In addition, this memo transmits clarifications, corrections, and amendments to current Fiscal Year (2021) Municipal Fee Schedule enacted since the production of the Fiscal Year 2022 Proposed Municipal Fee Schedule City Manager’s Report (CMR), 12193. Lastly, this memo includes Budget Survey results as of May 11, 2021 and summarizes community feedback on FY 2022 budget priorities.

Crossing Guard Locations

During the Budget Townhall community meeting on May 6, 2021, the contract for crossing guard services with All City Management Services, Inc. (CMR 8952) was discussed. FY 2022 Proposed Municipal Fee Schedule

Corrections and clarifications to CMR 12193: Changed Fees
CMR 12193 summarized the number of changed fees per Department for Fiscal Year (FY) 2022 and is detailed in Attachment A of the CMR. An updated Attachment A is included with this memorandum detailing changed fees by name along with the Adopted FY 2021 amount, the Proposed FY 2022 amount, the percentage change where relevant, and the fee change justification. These fees are brought to Council’s attention on Attachment A for adjustments between FY 2021 Adopted and FY 2022 Proposed, in accordance with City policy, including fees adjusted in connection with FY 2022 department budget proposals. The updated number of changed fees per Department is as follows: one in Administrative Services, two in Citywide, nineteen in Community Services, eight in the Office of Transportation, one in Planning and Development Services – Public Works, and six in Planning and Development Services – Impact & In-Lieu Fees.

Amendments to CMR 12193: Additional FY 2021 Fees
On February 1, 2021 (CMR 11956, Minutes) City Council approved an ordinance and emergency ordinance for a $6 vehicle entry fee for Foothills Nature Preserve. On May 10, 2021 the City Council reviewed and approved CMR 12205, which transmitted recommendations of the Parks and Recreation Commission (PRC) for further amendments to the FY 2021 Municipal Fee Schedule to modify the $6 vehicle entry fee into categories of vehicle passenger size, resulting in two new vehicle entry fees to Foothills Nature Preserve:

The City Council also accepted the PRC’s recommendations for free entry days and programs as detailed in CMR 12205. As these fees were adopted as amendments to the FY 2021 Municipal Fee Schedule, they are considered existing fees for the FY 2022 process. Revenue impacts from the additional vehicle entry fees and free entry options are projected to be minimal. Staff will monitor trends and bring forward corresponding revenue adjustments in future budget cycles as appropriate. The cost recovery level of these fees is Low (0 – 30%) in accordance with the City’s User Fee Cost Recovery Level Policy.

FY 2022 Budget Survey Results
The City released an online survey on May 5, 2021 to facilitate community feedback on budget priorities, including prioritization of service areas, proposed reductions, and alternative funding sources. Staff has included survey results received as of May 11, 2021 in Attachment B, and will provide weekly updates through budget hearings and full report upon closure of the survey on May 21, 2021. A summary of responses are as follows:

Question 4

When we look at housing, the parking lot by baylands was a good first step but a larger RV friendly parking lot should be targeted with the goal to outlaw the street parking. I’d like to see some investment in this.

I did not see an option to prioritize the current recommendation to reduce funding for teen programs such as the Rinconada Family Program, and youth mental health wellness programs like Youth Connectedness Initiative. This would have been my #1 priority given how much our youth have been through during the pandemic.

Question 4
My comments relate to this survey:
1. The question on reduce/replace services is confusing. It amounts to double negatives and I predict you will get confused answers
2. The question on where to get the money does not have enough information. How big are the reserves? How much is the ARPA money?

Question 4

It is not listed, but I am most concerned about reductions in teen services, including YCS Youth Connectedness Initiative, that will result in reduced mental health support for students in a time of crisis for many. Other reductions in City and nonprofit support for teen services are alarming at a time when they are needed most. Our time of suicide contagion and high rates of hospitalization and mental health distress is still too fresh in our memory to risk a heartbreaking return of a nationally recognized crisis for Palo Alto teens, families, and educators.

Question 4
The Children’s library is a unique and beloved space for children to explore the magic of books. It is essential that they be able to visit in person (and throughout the week, to avoid congestion and resulting noise/pandemonium). For parents, access to quality, child-friendly productions and instruction at the Children’s Theater is a major attraction. For a wealthy city, Palo Alto is a little short on cultural experiences for young people. These two institutions should be preserved at (almost) any cost.

Question 4
I grew up here, in Palo Alto. I'm not an engineer and have no affiliation to tech. But I love the city and its people! This is one of the richest cities in the world, where people pay $2,500 a month for a 1 bedroom apartment. Our taxes are not low, so where is all that wealth by going? If we don't preserve that which makes Palo Alto special (the Children's Theater, the Libraries, the Baylands, etc...), then what is it all for? If we're not careful, we will lose our most important asset - the talented, intelligent, hard working people who live here.

Question 4
The Council should be looking at a single priority, the budget, and the questions around it. What makes Palo Alto unique and worth living in? What is the minimum budget to keep these programs alive during a period of low city income? How can we diversify our income base? We are too reliant on hotel and restaurant taxes. Should we have big box stores? How have other cities weathered the downturn?

It costs a lot to live in Palo Alto. A family sacrifices a lot of quality of life to live here, but there are compensating features. This budget is reducing many elements that add to the appeal of living here. Take them away and we're just another suburb on the Peninsula.

Please don’t take away services that make Palo Alto unique in what it provides for the community. We pay taxes to have these services and our children/families will suffer if programs (ie: Art Center, Children’s Theater, Children’s Library, etc) are cut. Families living in Palo Alto truly benefit and use these services. It is what makes it worth paying higher prices to live within our city limits.

I grew up in Palo Alto and took advantage of all of the arts programming that you are planning on cutting (library access, hours, Children’s Theatre, PA Recreation). This is a detriment to today’s youth who are focused so heavily in STEM fields and don’t have an option to participate in the Arts! In my participation over the years, I gained lifelong friends and learned many skills that have served me well in my career. Please don’t cut the Arts funding!

Question 4
I am appalled at the proposed reductions to youth services and the arts. Where are the places where we experience “community”? Not on the streets or in individual houses, but in the places where people come together to share experiences: the libraries, the theaters, recreation. The middle school sports program is not only incredibly popular and (as far as I can tell) a source of income for the city, but the place where kids process an enormous amount of social and emotional learning, and the place where high school kids often get their first jobs and experience being coaches and mentors. To cut that program is a huge, huge loss at a time when kids are especially in need of social/emotional learning as well as opportunities to learn cooperation and teamwork as they come out of a year of isolation. I cannot say how much I am disheartened by the proposal to cut this and other youth programs. The damage these kids have sustained will last for years and need to be addressed both in and outside of the classroom.

Question 2
1. Junior Museum and Zoo Marketing Resources

3. Children’s Theatre Operations and Production Staffing

Question 3
1. Reduce City Reserves by 25%

Question 4
The junior zoo was renovated through using mainly private funds. Please don’t try to benefit off of those changes by adding an absurd admission fee. It’s the kind of neighborhood place where you pop in briefly - not stay all day. A minimal entrance fee (if any) is all that is warranted. AT $18 we WILL NEVER GO there and as a resident of Palo Alto with a 4 year old, that makes me sad.

We’ve seen some great productions at the Children’s Theatre - and have seem several members of the City Council in attendance with their family as well. Sure, let’s have them recycle costumes and reduce that budget, but please don’t do so with it entirely. Children’s library - You need to keep it. What other services are you providing for children who aren’t yet school age? I can think of very few. Parking enforcement - I heard you use a vendor who takes over 50% of the revenue. How about moving this in house to actually benefit from it? Otherwise I don’t see the point.

The Palo Alto Children’s Theatre and the Palo Alto Library are iconic for the Palo Alto community. Generations of children spent time reading and nurturing their love of reading within the comfort and safety of the Library. The Children’s Theatre has been a phenomenal community building and cherished safety zone for children to learn their passions in every area of the theatre. Why not reach out to Mark Zuckerberg and Priscilla Chan who live near by and have so much money for philanthropy??? These cultural locations are singular to Palo Alto. Come up with better plans to keep them!!!!!!!!!!!!!!

Question 4

Having a dedicated children's library and library branches, spaces such as the children's theatre, zoo, and art center - ought to be considered basic rights and absolute necessities for a healthy, vibrant and equitable environment. Palo Alto is more than a tech hub. Kids live here too. And not only the super rich ones. Parents also rely on such spaces for content (oh the joys of library story time), educational resources, and as a mental health asset.

Question 4
The extensive activity shut downs and school closures has inflicted much stress and isolation on the members of our community. Being able to interact again with friends and members of the arts, music, theatre, sports etc. communities will go a long way to help restore the fabric of life in Palo Alto. The great activities and programs that Palo Alto has for residents - both children and adults - should be top of the funding priority list. These intangibles are what make life worth living. The city should be doing everything it can and exploring every avenue possible to provide funding for the arts, music, and theatre, including business taxes, and even asking for donations from wealthy business owners and residents. Shredding the things that feed the soul will just make things worse.

Question 4

As a lifelong resident, I am disappointed in how the past and current Councils have prioritized our expenses. Parts of the City (Downtown, North and Old Palo Alto) seem well-tended while others (Midtown, South Palo Alto) continue to appear forgotten in services and resources. I also see the budget emphasizing priorities that are not in line with the Palo Alto image that the City would wish to maintain. Is this a cultural and intellectual hub of innovation, or is that mantle passed to other, more forward-thinking, communities?

I am perplexed by some companies declaring record profits and by expenditures for infrastructure (such as major overhauls of library and Jr Museum buildings) which we were ASSURED would NOT result in decreased services. Why are we willing to spend so much on buildings if we then cut funding for services? To look "rich"? We need to look ahead and provide support for our youth and teens so that we have a working city, not a bunch of expensive empty buildings, or unfair access for those who have less.
The idea that so much money was spent on the JR Museum building and now you want charge 18 dollars to enter is outrageous.

I think the city council needs to maintain existing successful programs before starting any new ones and to consider enriching and preserving the quality of life Palo Alto is known for. Question 4

Thank you for inviting comment on the budget from residents. This note outlines 4 recommendations:

1) An overarching comment on the proposed budget is that there are ways to apply fees (and budget cuts) more judiciously – in ways that preserve the spirit behind the “climate change”, “housing”, “social justice”, and “economic recovery” priorities identified by the City Council in 2021. Yet what has been proposed to us (residents) is an across-the-board reduction in community services. More thoughtful application of fees (for example a sliding scale, or the application of fees only for services accessed by higher-income households) is a more sophisticated and equitable way to manage the budget. Why offer residents blunt “across the board” cuts when we could instead endorse a philosophy or principled approach to budget cuts (and fees) that better supports our priorities? For example, increase permitting fees for large housing developments, and retain accessibility to services like the library, which lower-income families rely on.

2) It would be valuable to have more transparency around spending under the Council’s 4 priority areas. Are these funds for discretionary activities? How do we know that these activities will be effective? How will they be evaluated? Similar to the point above, is it possible to be more selective in these cuts? For example, for affordable housing reduce spending on a “public safety building” and instead direct resources to affordable housing and services for the unhoused. With more people unhoused as a result of the pandemic, we need to direct our infrastructure resources to the most vulnerable. (On that note, why are unhoused residents given no mention in the budget???)

3) We are all grateful for the reductions in labor costs from represented groups. However, can we explore similar labor cost reductions from non-represented employees? Many businesses have stayed afloat by reducing their workforce to part-time. Within the legal frameworks available to the City, it might be worth exploring labor cost reductions across the board -- both to save jobs for people who need them, and to spread the pain of cuts across a broader swath of the workforce.

4) Many in our community strongly endorse the decreased funding for police activities and hope this year’s budget cuts will prompt our city to reimagine “public safety”. We need to transform policing in Palo Alto, and redirect funds currently spent on patrolling toward community services.

If the city is going to forego a significant portion of the Utility transfer, which, to my mind, is like a business tax, because the biggest business buildings will pay the most, then I think the city should immediately replace it with either a business tax, or a utility use based tax.

I think it is essential to maintain services like the library system and parks, which are spread out city wide, where everyone has a local park or library in walking distance.

Has the Train Crossing Intrusion Detection System proven useful? I would support that if I knew it was making a safety difference.

Question 4
There are few things more fundamental than clean air, quiet neighborhoods, and protecting our children from climate change. For less than one-tenth of one-percent of the city budget, we could achieve these things. And yet, we are neglecting these today.

Palo Alto has had a law for 15 years that bans noisy and polluting gas powered leaf blowers from our neighborhoods. But Palo Alto is failing to enforce this law (in 2020, there were over 300 complaints filed, but only 1 citation issued -- in the entire city over the entire year!) This is inexcusable. These illegal blowers pollute our air and make it impossible to enjoy our homes and yards while they are going. They are unhealthy for children, for the elderly, and most of all, for the workers who use them day in and day out. Moreover, the CA Air Resources Board estimates that the emissions from small engines, such as leaf blowers, will exceed the emissions from all cars in CA as of THIS YEAR. There is no point in electrifying cars while we continue to allow gas leaf blowers in our city.

If we want to advance our climate change goals, there is no better place to start (and at miniscule cost!) than hiring a dedicated community service officer to enforce our long-standing ban on gas leaf blowers. The citizens of Palo Alto deserve clean air, we deserve quiet homes, and we need to protect our planet.

Removing and/or reducing activities and programs for youth in this community is tantamount to saying you don’t care. Our kids need the libraries, museums, art center, theater, and the safety of crossing guards. What the community no longer needs is priorities skewed in the direction of high-cost contractors and frivolous “traffic improvements” such as roundabouts.

Question 4
I think we cut our Police Services too much already last year. I think that the Children’s Theater is a wonderful piece of the community, but that it should move forward as a non-profit organization, rather than through tax payer dollars. I also think that two libraries for a city this size is reasonable. While sad to see any libraries go I think our emergency services are much less of a luxury, particularly given the cuts already made. Palo Alto is unique with Stanford mall and some of the property crime that seems to come into the city, and I think we would be wise to support our Public Safety. Thank you for your consideration.

Eliminating the Costume Supervisor at the Children's Theatre will ultimately be a self-defeating decision. I don't see other departments being told to get by with folks "pitching in" to cover the loss of a professional position. The Children's Theatre should, though, stop hiring adult actors to perform. The PACT was founded on the idea of youth performing for youth, and it is time to get back to that, with a re-focus on expanding performance opportunities for young people in the community at large.

Question 4

We understand these couple of years are difficult for everyone and a lot of revenue streams have dried out. However, please seriously consider keeping up the budget for the community services such as libraries, children’s theatre, art center, community recreational programs, teen center as the community is recovering from the pandemic hit. These are the exact things that have tied the community together and made Palo Alto a special and vibrant place for the residents. Taking them away or reducing the programs will hit the community even more on top of the pandemic impact. For example, I signed up my kids for summer camps at both children’s theatre and the art center, and took my kids to visit the children’s library as soon as it reopened to the public. When I told my kids these budget reduction plans, they were super disappointed and wanted me to add their voices as well: “This is the most unreasonable decision I have heard of during the entire pandemic time. You were once kids, so don’t act as if these services are not valuable just because you are not kids any more.”

Thanks for your attention and please listen to the residents and act on behalf of the community’s interests.

Question 4

Fully-loaded cost of a COPA staff employee is approximately $240,000. Managers would naturally have a higher fully-loaded cost. I think that, before cutting community services, Council should ask what changes are needed in the staff compensation system, and how to reduce the cost of staff and management (referred to above as Strategic Support).

Please do not close the Children’s Library. I am astonished to hear it is under consideration. It is one of this city’s most precious assets, bringing together community, nourishing young minds, providing a haven of true, grounded value amidst the flurry of digital distractions. There is no replacement for it, especially not a “vending machine.” Our family has taken great joy and solace in browsing the shelves, learning from the incredibly gifted librarians, and checking out countless books. Please, please, please do not take this away from our children and families.

Question 4
Reduction in services that bind the community together, such as art, parks, safety, and social justice are essential to achieve a cohesive population that cares about the lives of others and therefore will work together to insure the best possible outcomes for each other. Where technology can solve planning problems, it can perhaps cut costs and waste. Expenditure can be turned into revenue where each project and activity moves forward with a specific intention to avoid waste. The Baylands, Children’s Theatre, The Art Center, Parks, Libraries, and events that offer opportunities for every resident, family, and visitor to interact to broaden our view and understanding of each other must be maintained. These entities are not simply accessories to the function of a city. They are essential to the well-being that keeps people active and interested in being part of the city’s welfare. Persons, people not simply FTEs, should be maintained and supported for the work that they have already done to create what makes Palo Alto our vibrant and unique community.

Question 4
The survey is a little confusing, but I’d recommend continuing to sort our our police budget and headcount, with a focus on removing those officers most likely to generate costly litigation due to a history of negative interactions with the public.

I also recommend admissions fees at Foothill park for non-Palo Alto residents.

In general, offsetting some of the budget with fees for those who actually utilize the (excellent!) services would satisfy more people than deep cuts to longstanding civic services.

Question 4
I am completely against the proposed increase for multi-family impact fees. I believe this is totally counter to the stated priority for increasing housing stock and will discourage more dense projects with small units over large units in less dense developments. We have enough park area for the foreseeable future and the purchase of additional land for parks seems to be the largest driver for the proposed increase. I would recommend you reduce the goal for increasing park area and try to maintain fees at or lower for the next 2 cycles to see the result. Single-family homes can be considered in a different way because the impact is not amplified in the same manner. Additionally, I recommend removing any requirement for ADUs to pay impact fees entirely. The mandated proportionate application of impact fees for ADUs is unfair and needs to be resolved.

Question 4
This is a confusing survey. In question 2 many items are cuts that you need to select to restore, and some are increases in expenditures. What if you don’t want to support those increases? It is hard to know how to select these preferences when some are cuts you want to reduce and others that are proposed increases in funding that you may NOT want to incur. Very poor wording and questionnaire design. Also in the question last question it would have been helpful to know more about these choices (how much in $ is a 10% reduction in budget?)

Palo Alto is a great community that includes a lot of families as well as businesses. It’s important to keep up the programs that make Palo Alto one of the best family-friendly communities in the country; so keep up the traffic safety, education and extracurricular activities for children.
libraries, and park facilities. I'm less worried about crime, since practically, Palo Alto has very little crime. Infrastructure is an ongoing challenge, but can be easily deferred for a year or two. Things like parking enforcement should generally be self-funding.

Question 4
I find your descriptions difficult to understand: for example, which one of these affects the proposed $18 fee for the Junior Museum and Zoo. Are you saying that the proposed fee is to make up for a MARKETING (not operating) budget?? I would like to make clear that my top 3 priorities are (1) Maintain walk-in browsing hours at local libraries, especially the Children’s Library (2) Keep the Junior Museum and Zoo free/donations, as part of the joy of the place was being able to pop in for 15 min with toddlers; if it had ever been an expensive trip that I felt I needed to get “the most for my money” out of, we never would have gone, we’d have just gone to Happy Hollow instead, plus being able to go frequently meant that we had a relationship with desk staff who asked about my older children long after they aged out of trips to our little zoo, and (3) Maintain or increase crossing guard services; part of the value of this community is the quality of life benefit that I do not need to drive my children to school, and crossing guard services help keep their journeys safe.

Please note that all three of these emphasize the qualities that make Palo Alto worth the high prices of houses here: they make raising children here pleasant and easier. Libraries, art programs, sport programs and safe streets make it easy to educate and entertain children, as well as slowly allow them independence and freedom.

Question 4

Stop hiring consultants to do the work of the large and well-paid Palo Alto City staff. Cut City management and executives by 20%, and I do not mean support for the City Council which is usually included in any option for management cuts. Put a hold on the new police building. You are proposing cuts to services provided to our residents while spending millions on a new building that we can do without. Our police do a good job, but they already have every toy in the book and so many patrols cars that they fill up the streets next to City Hall.

Question 4

Obviously, public safety and its well-being are the top priorities for any City. We need to have adequate police and fire protection each and every day. We also need to have safety on our roads and so, Public Works funding for our streets, water, sewer, and electricity is critical to maintain. Things that serve the public directly, our libraries, especially -- need to be next. I like the Children's Theatre, but understand if temporary cuts need to be made there.

Major Capital Improvement projects should be delayed or reconsidered by Council. We don't need a new Public Safety Building right now. The Bike Bridge, along 101 was a mistake to go forward with -- not a necessity now.

Question 4
The pandemic has shown us so many possibilities to change our perspectives on how we govern and run our City. I urge the City to consider the following:

1. Continue to allow citizen participation in public meetings by Zoom or other technology; allow recordings of meetings to act as minutes, and disseminate widely. Make it easy for people to sign up to participate in government: meetings, committees, and tasks
2. Continue to provide access to permitting, licensing, and timely information via the web
3. Change our thinking from infrastructure = things to infrastructure = people. Forget parking garages & police stations. Focus on people’s housing, economic and social services. skill building and education. Learn from neighborhoods that are engaged doing this already.
4. Make it mandatory that all PA City staff and officials actually get out and know the City and meet the people (when safe to do so.) This will encourage and support interaction and communication and begin to change the us vs them dynamic that is so alive in our City today.
5. Use consistent language and explain acronyms across communications. For example, I found it very difficult to get more information about the priority lists in this survey. Hard to provide a thoughtful response without easy access to more info. Thank you for listening.

Question 3

1. Advance the 2nd Year American Rescue Program Act (ARPA) Funding set aside for FY 2022-23 in FY 2021-22

Question 4

Without having a greater understanding of the voter climate and economic predictions, it is very difficult to make the best decision about how to generate additional revenue if needed. My first priority would actually be to eliminate truly wasteful spending in Palo Alto. For example, stop expensive traffic calming projects. Understand the items where spending is really at a luxury level—I can't believe how many cross guards Palo Alto has that are at intersections not directly adjacent to schools. The current staffing is nice, but well above the standards we can afford in tough financial times.

Question 4
This city has its priorities all wrong if closing libraries, cutting crossing guards, teen center programming and community theater is how it wants to balance the budget. Children's well being - through being safe on the way to school, having creative outlets for self-expression and building community, and having access to the world and the arts at libraries and the theater should be the priority. Youth should be the life blood of this city. Not bloated city management or police, or commissions to study steps to bring about racial and economic equity. Those commissions just waste money. We already know we need to reform the police department and build affordable housing.

This survey ignores the elephant in the room. It is well-established by audits over the years that the City of Palo Alto has as many as 50% more employees relative to the size of similarly well-served cities than best practice indicates. There are too many layers of management, and the average span of control per manager is too small. This is not a criticism of our competent and diligent city staff, it is an observation that the city would operate better and more efficiently with fewer management staff and fewer management layers, with more empowerment of employees at the task level. If the City cuts its headcount by about 30%, by cutting managers not services, then service will be maintained or improved, and the city will avoid the financial disaster that is otherwise inevitable due to the unfunded pension obligation to an increasing population of retired staff. As we know, experienced staff are in short supply for many cities, and Palo Alto's staff are among the best, so those terminated will have no problem finding other similar employment.

Please keep our city community gardens a top priority, and affordable. Many grow food to be able to survive, with food costs so high in Palo Alto and the Bay Area. Many live in apartments with children. We gardeners deserve respect and autonomy! We definitely invest and give back to our community and the ecosystem. There are many birds who depend on the seeds from herbs and plants in our gardens, and many bees and butterflies, and even lizards at the community garden. These last few open spaces (once much more common in Palo Alto) are so important for many residents to enjoy, even just for walking around them and seeing the flowers and plants growing. In addition, historically, they have been hubs for school classroom visits, art group visits, and dog walkers.

Put an effort on making city projects more efficient. I have seen several city project that could achieve similar results for a much lower cost. It's time we reward people who come up with ways to save money on existing projects, without compromising our city goals. Instead of making the citizens priorities between important goals, put more work in cutting unnecessary costs. Same as we do in public companies, replace people who say it cannot be done, with people who say it can.

Question 4

- Take care of business first - roads, water, utilities.
- Cut the fire department and outsource emergency response. We don't have that many fires and don't need these highly paid people sleeping on the job for no reason. Emergency response can be outsourced for less cost and use the existing fire buildings as jump off areas.
- Keep police and parking enforcement.
- Cut staff where possible and outsource to lower exorbitant pension costs. I like the outsourcing of the running of the pools - better classes and services than before.
- Stop spending so much on the homeless and get them off the street and into mental hospitals.
- Make it easier for local citizens, who have been trained, to help out at the libraries, children's theater, zoo and other community places to lower costs.

Start some sort of citizen certification program so that you know they are trained and reliable and can do the job and will be an asset to the community. We have lots of people who want to help to educate, clean, plant flowers, etc... if given the opportunity.

I can't answer the question about reducing city reserves without knowing the size of the reserve and how that compares to the annual budget that it represents.

I don't object to closing the Downtown and College Terrace libraries but I would support keeping the Children's Library open.

I have heard that there is a proposal to eliminate the community gardens. I can't imagine that saves very much money.

An $18 entrance fee for the zoo is completely ridiculous.

Question 4

This list lacks the biggest ways that other cities raise revenue and create funds. Why not look at our peer cities? They do the following:

- Apply for HomeKey Funds! The state is giving away $1.5 billion
- Apply for other State and Federal relief funds. E.g. Palo Alto could have received $20 million to assist with Mental Health Services but did not apply. Why not?
- Business tax only for largest businesses - based on revenue (receipts tax)
- Business tax only for largest businesses - based on payroll (PAYROLL tax, not headcount tax-- headcount tax is regressive)
- Overpaid executive tax for businesses that pay their top executives more than 100 times the median pay. These companies certainly can afford to pay taxes!
- Re-open the Office of Inspection & Enforcement -- and start collecting the $50 million in code violation penalties that Palo Alto does not enforce against commercial developers!

Finally, do not lump utilities tax with Business Tax. Palo Alto already owes residents at least $12 million (plus 10% interest) for the illegal utilities taxes it has been charging residents. Unless you are talking about making businesses pay their fair share for utilities. That was a misleading category.

This insufficient list and misleading categories make it seem that don’t want to make businesses pay their fair share. Do you think that Tesla and Palantir don’t pay taxes everywhere else they have offices? Because they do.

Question 4

I wish this item (1) addressed the City's decision to reduce the subsidy to the overall JMZ operating budget, not only marketing, and (2) reflected the $18 ticket price that Council approved.

Instead of "Reduce Junior Museum and Zoo Marketing Resources" I would suggest the following reduction as more representative/accurate "Reduce the City Subsidy to the Junior Museum (JMZ) and Charge $18 per visitor to bridge the gap."

Question 4

Wow, it took a long time to read the budget proposal! Instead of closing 3 libraries, why don’t you try to reduce consultancy fees? In the past few years, I have read many times about city council paying $100-200,000 for consultancy fees. This seems exorbitant to me. Also, why stop funding the new junior museum and zoo? I read that it may now cost $16 to go there, an expense that many families may find excessive. I’m glad to see that a new park ranger will be hired to handle the larger crowds (especially on weekends and holidays) in Foothills Park. Is it really necessary for the city manager to have such a large staff? Can’t a reduction in his staff allow money to keep some Children’s Theater productions alive? Thank you.

Question 4

Always tough. Teens, disadvantaged, and local businesses should be first priority to help them recover from the covid dislocations. Library and other critical social and cultural services are important and need to be supported, if not a pre-virus levels. Infrastructure and other city services can stand by for a bit until things recover.

Question 4
Instead eliminating services, please review the existing service/department operating efficiency and effect unless. Many operations can run more efficiently and effectively with the right leadership/staffing instead of total elimination. For example, many working families that pay hefty property/city tax do not get to utilize library resources due to the constant checkout of books (on hold). How do you make books more accessible efficiently to families that don’t have time to visit libraries during the week/day or constantly monitor availability... this is the main regret we have for not being able to use library resources. Many books are just not available and always checked out.

Our taxes are not going down, so why would all the incredible community services that have made Palo Alto such a unique and coveted city be gutted? We need to save them, not get rid of them. You won't be able to bring back a Children's Theatre that has been such a source of creativity, exchange, inspiration and so much more for 90 years. Eliminate libraries, community spaces and programs, and you've got yourself a very dead city, which will only drive people away, and make it very difficult to justify the kinds of taxes and prices we pay for housing. After the devastation and losses of 2020 and 2021, we are all craving to return to these beloved spaces and enjoy the rich, diverse programs that they offer. Please, please don't take them away from us, not when we need them to be here the most, once we can safely re-open fully.

Question 4
While economic times have been horrible for many local businesses, on the other hand, wealth has greatly increased for many local residents. Passing a new tax would be hard and time consuming... but what about voluntary temporary fundraising to bridge the gap? I for one would be willing to contribute to shore up the city's finances and reinstate many of the cut programs. The main problem with a new tax is that it would likely be permanent -- but this is hopefully a temporary problem -- we need to get the businesses back on their feet, and the revenue will presumably come back as the wealthy residents renew their spending patterns.

Question 4
The cuts listed in this poll should have dollar amounts, so people know how much they cost. All cuts are not equal, dollar-wise or impact-wise. The full budget with all line-items, grouped by programs, needs to be released so council can consider other cuts not suggested by staff.
The full council should discuss the budget, not just the Finance Committee in marathon 9-5 sessions that people with working-hour jobs can’t attend.
The Council needs to stop limiting number of public speakers after 5 minutes or so at meetings, especially since planned discussion times shift.
Meeting packets should include all public comments received within a day or so of meetings—11 day cutoff means letters on timely issues don’t show up when they should.
Council and staff should prioritize responding to public letters and comments. City Hall constantly ignores or dismisses good ideas to improve the city.

Question 4
2020 was a bad year, but I do not feel that our future budgets should be calculated with 2020 as the new baseline, because it’s not. The pandemic is winding down, businesses will soon be back to pre-2020 levels, with sales tax and transient tax restored. This is NOT the new normal. Services, such as the Children’s Theatre, community gardens, the Junior Museum, libraries, the art programs, and others, define Palo Alto as a great place to live. Palo Alto is also a community that has ALWAYS invested in youth and education. If we cut these programs, the heart and soul of Palo Alto will be gone. Please put heads together with other like communities (Marin, etc) facing similar challenges to get more ideas as we go through this difficult exercise. No one wants to lose the essence of our city, and nor should we. We should be able to weather one bad year. If not, we have bigger problems.

Question 4

There is a social media thread indicating that funding to the community gardens is to be cut. This is mean spirited. Other than the fact that the gardens occupy land that could be revenue generating, the cost of these gardens is very low. Your priorities seem very odd. You cut low cost things like gardens but spend millions on low value things like a bridge across 101 to the Baylands and a children's museum that few people go to and even less will visit now that you are charging $18 per person.

---

Palo Alto's infrastructure is in dire need of update, including Cubberley Community Center, Libraries, and several elementary schools. These infrastructure are essential to education and safety of the young and families. The young are the future. Education is the key to reaching social justice, social and economic balance, and climate change protections. Education takes lots of patience and very long time, but is the true answer to the above problems. Make education the higher priority.

Question 4

We all need assurance that the utility funds aren't and won't be used to fill in gaps in the General Fund. This has been an issue since I was on the UAC several years ago when the General Fund needs “coincidentally” matched transfers from the utility funds. However, I do support considering a temporary charge on utility bills that is totally transparent to the public. This could be timed to coincide with more utility support to help customers reduce their bills through conservation programs and help make it easier for customers to install solar power on private homes. The extra tax could have the benefit of inspiring customers to think more about reducing their energy use.
