City Council Staff Report

(ID # 9823)

Report Type: Consent Calendar

Meeting Date: 12/3/2018

Summary Title: Resolution of Support for formation of RHNA Subregion

Title: Adoption of Resolution of Support for Formation of a Regional Housing Needs Allocation Subregion for Santa Clara County

From: City Manager

Lead Department: Planning and Community Environment

Recommendation

Staff recommends that the City Council adopt a resolution to support the formation of a Regional Housing Needs Allocation (RHNA) Sub-region.

Background

On September 10, 2018 City Council informally signaled its support (8-1) to participate with Santa Clara County and other cities in the formation of a RHNA subregion<sup>1</sup>. The subregion would allow local governments and the County to cooperatively re-distribute State mandated regional housing allocations within the region with the intent to better facilitate and implement countywide housing production. The Cities Association of Santa Clara County<sup>2</sup> (Cities Association) has received feedback from each of the cities in the County with a clear majority expressing support for moving forward with a subregion. The City Council is being asked to adopt a formal resolution memorializing its non-binding interest to participate in the Cities Association's effort to create the RHNA subregion.

RHNA is the process by which the California Department of Housing and Community Development (HCD), in coordination with the jurisdiction's Council of Governments (COG)<sup>3</sup>,

<sup>2</sup> The Cities Association represents the mutual interests of the 15 cities in Santa Clara County. Through the Cities Association, city leaders network, collaborate, research policy, and work side by side on issues of mutual local interest. More information about the Cities Association is available online: <http://citiesassociation.org/> determines a city's share of the regional housing need. HCD, as permitted by the Housing Element Law (Government Code Sections 65580-65589), allows certain combinations of local governments to form a subregion to implement the RHNA process and determine the allocation of housing units among its jurisdictions, instead of the COG. All of this provides a subregion with greater flexibility and local control than the traditional process managed by HCD and the Association of Bay Area Governments (ABAG).

Discussion

The Cities Association, in an effort to improve the regional housing deficit problem, has actively been discussing the RHNA subregion formation for more than five years. The Cities Association formed a Regional Housing Task Force to study the issue. Over three years, the subcommittee has developed a framework, guiding principles, and process to establish and implement a RHNA subregion.

During the discussions, it was emphasized and agreed that this would be a cooperative effort so that no city would be required to implement an action that they did not support. Subregions have been formed for three northern California counties: San Mateo, Napa and Solano Counties. All of the subregions for the three counties included full participation by all the cities in the associated counties.

At their June 2018 meeting, the Cities Association recommended a two-step process for the formation of a subregion.

- The first step would be for the city councils to discuss the formation of a subregion, which includes review of the pros/cons, the draft Guiding principles, and draft By-laws. For Palo Alto, this occurred on September 10, 2018.
- The second step would be for participating cities to adopt a resolution to support the formation.

As outlined by the Government Code, an eligible subregion can be formed with each jurisdiction adopting a resolution, identification of a subregion entity (the Cities Association subcommittee for example), adoption of rules and agreement with ABAG/MTC. Once the subregion is formed, the entity would create a methodology, allow for public comment and distribute the allocation. The next RHNA cycle for the housing element will start in 2020.

At their October 11 meeting, the executive director of the Cities Association updated the Board of Directors regarding feedback from the cities and county regarding the possible formation of a RHNA subregion. A majority of the cities, 13 out of 16 jurisdictions, had expressed a willingness to form a subregion. Although they have not taken formal action, Santa Clara County has stated previously that it is also supportive. The cities of Los Altos Hills and Santa Clara have already adopted resolutions of support.

The Board voted in favor of moving forward with the formation of a subregion and requested each of the jurisdictions to adopt resolutions in support of the subregion formation. The Cities Association will then reconvene to oversee the process of forming a subregion.

Next Steps

If the Council adopts a resolution of support of a RHNA subregion, staff will provide a copy of the resolution with Cities Association Board of Directors. Staff will coordinate with the Cities Association as they move forward in the process, including allocation guidelines for the next RHNA cycle in 2020.

Policy Implications

The proposed actions are consistent with numerous Comprehensive Plan goals and policies that encourage and support housing development, including affordable housing.

Resource Impact

At this time, the recommended actions are not anticipated to have a significant fiscal impact to the City.

Environmental Review

The action requested in this report does not constitute a project as defined by the California Environmental Quality Act (CEQA) and no further analysis is required.

Resolution of the Council of the City of Palo Alto of Intent to Support Formation of a Housing Subregion of Santa Clara County Local Governments to Facilitate and Implement
Countywide Housing Production Consistent with the Regional Housing Needs Allocation (RHNA) Formula Currently Assigned by the Association of Bay Area Governments (ABAG)

WHEREAS, Housing Element Law (California Government Code Sections 65580 – 65589.8) provides for a Regional Housing Need Allocation (RHNA) process; and

WHEREAS, to implement such RHNA process in the San Francisco Bay Area, the State of California has delegated to the Association of Bay Area Governments (ABAG) responsibility to adopt an allocation methodology, then use the adopted methodology to assign to each jurisdiction in the Bay Area the obligation to zone enough housing development capacity to accommodate production of a specific number of housing units during the period from 2023 through 2031; and

WHEREAS, Government Code Section 65584.03 provides that certain combinations of local governments may form a subregion to perform RHNA for themselves in order to allocate among themselves the total number of housing units assigned to them collectively by ABAG; and

WHEREAS, the City of Palo Alto is interested in exploring the formation of a RHNA subregion consistent with Government Code Section 65584 et seq and acceptable to ABAG and the California Department of Housing and Community Development (HCD) to facilitate collaboration with the county and all cities in the County of Santa Clara, to efficiently and effectively deliver housing production goals; and

WHEREAS, the Board of the Cities Association of Santa Clara County (CASCC) has directed the review of the benefits of such a subregion and subsequently representatives of the CASCC have formed a committee to evaluate and make recommendations regarding the importance of and opportunities for success through shared housing strategies which could be facilitated by a subregional effort; and

WHEREAS, housing is a countywide challenge, and housing production types, numbers, density, appropriateness and affordability levels can vary in different communities, and the cities within Santa Clara County (collectively, the “Cities”) recognize all production types are important to the housing supply of the County and its related economic and social health; and

WHEREAS, the Cities are individually accountable for, and retain full local authority for, identifying sites for housing development and for adopting and implementing housing policies intended to facilitate production of housing to meet local, regional and state policy objectives embodied in the numbers prescribed by ABAG in the Sustainable Community Strategy that will be adopted by ABAG and the Metropolitan Transportation Commission (MTC) in 2021; and

NOT YET APPROVED

WHEREAS; through mutual cooperation and planning, the production of these housing units may be enhanced through collective efforts and resources, therefore creating a forum for developing countywide policy consensus on matters related to the Sustainable Community Strategy;

NOW, THEREFORE, the Council of the City of Palo Alto RESOLVES as follows:

SECTION 1. That it is in the best interest of the City to join with other cities in Santa Clara County to explore creation of the RHNA subregion and that by working together to plan for housing growth, the stage is set for implementing housing and more housing will ultimately be built to meet the needs of the entire County and its residents.

SECTION 2. That the City Manager is hereby authorized and directed to enter into discussions regarding the formation of a RHNA subregion and the development of a workplan and budget, and schedule of actions leading to the countywide, self-administration of the housing needs allocation process, allocating the countywide total housing needs allocation among all the Cities and unincorporated County by consensus; and to bring back a recommendation and resolution for action to join a RHNA subregion, or in the alternative, an explanation detailing the decision not to participate in the RHNA subregion.

SECTION 3. The Council finds that the adoption of this Resolution does not meet the definition of a project under Public Resources Code Section 21065, thus, no environmental assessment under the California Environmental Quality Act is required.

Santa Clara County Regional Housing Needs Allocation (RHNA) Subregion Overview

What is a RHNA subregion? (Government Code Section 65584.03)

In recognition of the common interests and mutual challenges and opportunities associated with providing housing, two or more contiguous cities and a county may form a subregional entity for the purpose of allocation of the subregion's existing and projected need for housing among its members in accordance with the allocation methodology established pursuant to Government Code Section 65584.04.

All decisions of the subregion shall be approved by vote as provided for in the rules adopted by the local governments comprising the subregion, or shall be approved by vote of the county and the majority of the cities with the majority of population within the county.

What are the steps to create a subregion, following the prescribed timelines in State law?

1. Each participating jurisdiction adopts a resolution indicating its commitment to participating in the subregional entity.
2. For Santa Clara County, the subregional entity could be a committee of the Cities Association with participating cities and the County.
3. The Cities Association (or other entity) would enter into an agreement with the Council of Governments (COG, in our case ABAG/MTC) that sets forth the process, timing, and other terms and conditions of the delegation of responsibility by the COG to the subregion.

What does the subregion do, following the prescribe timelines in State law?

1. The subregion determines the methodology for allocating housing need to its participating jurisdictions according to State law (or accepts the methodology factors from the COG as a starting point for further distribution), providing opportunity for public comment and modification prior to adoption of the methodology.
2. The COG allocates a share to the subregion based on a proportion consistent with the distribution of households assumed for the comparable time period of the applicable regional transportation plan.
3. The subregion allocates the distribution of the RHNA to the participating jurisdictions according to the adopted methodology, providing an opportunity for public comment and modification prior to finalizing the distribution.

What is the estimated cost of a subregion versus typical participation in the RHNA process?

Assuming that the subregion does not hire a consultant to create a separate methodology, the costs would be:

1. Administrating and documenting the subregion meetings and decisions;
2. Conducting the required outreach prior to the subregion making its decisions;
3. Communicating with ABAG/MTC as needed; and
4. Publishing the required notices.

The Planning Departments of the participating jurisdictions typically absorb the RHNA evaluation without additional staffing or consultant assistance.

Santa Clara County Regional Housing Needs Allocation (RHNA) Subregion Overview

What are other activities that the subregion could assume outside of the RHNA process and State law?

- Foster collaboration between cities within Santa Clara County
  - Focus on Measure A implementation
  - Facilitate an open dialogue between the jurisdictions, public, and interested organizations on housing issues and opportunities
  - Share best practices regarding rehabilitating existing housing stock, addressing gentrification/displacement, etc.

- Work together to obtain and commit more financial resources to affordable housing production
  - Support for 2018 ballot measure for affordable housing funding
  - Consider potential legislative efforts to seek meaningful tax credits and other mechanisms

SANTA CLARA COUNTY RHNA SUBREGION TASK FORCE
 PROS & CONS OF RHNA SUBREGION FORMATION

Pros	Cons	Example
Creates flexibility & allows cities to trade		Distribute the subregion's numbers or can use ABAG's distribution
Empowers cities to have a say in the regional planning process		Self-determination: a city is able to accept or not accept allocation from another city.
Allows better alignment between local and regional needs		Ability to plan along on transit corridors and near employment.
Can find innovative solutions		Collective problem-solving which may include negotiating credits and creative financing
May facilitate the production of more housing		Utilizes economies of scale and eliminates duplication. Siting housing near supportive services.
Creates a forum for collaboration that leads to innovative solutions		San Mateo County Trade Woodside/Redwood City & Daly City/Colma/County
Creates awareness (and healthy competition)		Creates a forum to share knowledge and success. When one city is doing the heavy lifting, may encourage other jurisdictions to step up to the plate.
If success, may create additional opportunities for collaborative work		Success may be housing or spill over to other technical areas (transportation). May use collaboration for legislative advocacy.
Better development		Cities can work together to build near transit and not necessarily confined by a city boundary.

Creates a forum to discuss sharing of planning resources		Share resources - - may share in cost to pay consultants for housing element preparation or program ideas (for those who want to share).
	Time, effort & resources which may end in same result.	What if subregion fails to produce a different allocation?
	Lack of trust for fair and equitable process.	Some cities may shirk their responsibility to step up and accept housing.
Increases local control		Ability to control own numbers and improve county-wide performance.
	Loss of political distance from MTC and ABAG	Pressure on community to produce additional housing.
	Lack of clarity of the benefits to accept someone's numbers/housing	City worried about allocation dumping
Still need to plan for housing for all income levels		Can't go to zero. Every jurisdiction still has an allocation in every income level.
	No role model	No other subregion has such large population variances.
Increased use of ADUs		ADUs more feasible with cities with large residential lots.

GUIDING PRINCIPLES - May 2018

Vision

For Santa Clara County and its cities to work collaboratively to produce more housing in the Region. have a unified voice in responding to the area's housing needs-- a problem that transcends jurisdictional barriers.

Benefits

1. By working together to plan for housing growth, the stage is set for implementing housing, and more housing will ultimately be built.
2. Housing will be planned in the right places, near transportation, jobs, and services.
3. Santa Clara County jurisdictions can work together to share resources.
4. Collaboration enables collective advocacy on regional and Statewide issues.
5. Partnership sets the stage for other cooperation, including sharing Housing Element consultants, sharing expertise, analyses, and policies, and potentially enabling a shared review by the California Housing and Community Development (HCD) Department.
6. Collective agreement is reached on strategies and tools to meet the region's housing need, including the potential for trading RHNA numbers.
7. Greater flexibility.

Guiding Principles

1. Conform with all State objectives included in Section 66584(d), including ensuring that the allocation of affordable homes is allocated to all jurisdictions in the region in an equitable manner.
2. Allocate housing growth strategically around major transportation corridors and near employment and services, while respecting infrastructure constraints and the unique natural resources of Santa Clara County.
3. Foster collaboration between jurisdictions and develop collective strategies that provide a framework for addressing housing need, including the potential for resource / housing allocation trade-offs.
4. Facilitate an open dialogue between jurisdictions, the general public, and interested organizations, including transportation agencies and land use bodies.
5. Utilize existing forums for discussion (e.g., Cities Association, City Managers' Association, SCCAPO, etc.).

Keys to Success

1. Taking responsibility for the process and the resulting housing shares.
2. Taking into consideration other communities' interests as well as your own.
3. Being willing to accept a reasonable housing share, not just the lowest.
4. Being willing to consider negotiating trades.
5. Recognizing that working together locally is better than abdicating the responsibility to the region and the state.
6. Elected leaders in all jurisdictions willing to compromise for regional benefit.
