

What is the biggest animal in the park?

The most common large animal seen in the park is the human being. Next most common large animal would be the white tailed deer and after them mountain lions. In terms of average body weight deer come first, followed by humans and mountain lions.

The average adult male white tailed deer weighs about 225 pounds; the average adult female white tailed deer weighs about 175 pounds.

The average adult human male weighs about 175 pounds, the average adult human female 135 pounds.

The average adult male mountain lion weighs about 140 pounds; the average adult female mountain lion weighs about 80 pounds.